less to the Baltimore road. Could you not make a cont.act with the Company, very secure and strong, to carry[coke over that thirty miles of road at 2 cents per ton per mile, and coal at 1] cents? With that I think Wheeling would be a great gainer by completing the Heappfield to the Connellaville road. You could get at least half the stock for the road bed along the line, and your people and the Connellaville companies would take the balance, while the bonds would easily bring the rails.

By this means you would bring Wheeling into the line of travel from Baltimore and Washington to the great central Weet, and secure a large portion of freight that now takes the Central Ohio, and the river from your place. The B. & O. will not haul her through freight over her high grades any longer than she can help, and the travel will select the route. This road, if I now understand it right, would sid your Lake route and O. & P., and would in time bring a railroad bridge across at Wheeling proper.

I was much interested in reading, a faw days since, in your paper, an interesting account of a large meeting of your citizens to do honor to A. W. position at Chicage and the noble courage required to take it, can only be appreciated by shose who have been in such positions, and felt the danger of defeat under not only the prestige of individual power, but the force, often implied, of a popular "boom." The result was glorious. More than any other one thing, it contributed to Mr. Garifield's nomination and Republican success, for there was no other man before the convention, except possibly Sherman, who could have been elected.

It will also aid in the development of West Virginia. Every man of Republican principles of progress, who prefers aheep to dogs, books to shot guns, school houses to losting dens, who is brought before the public and mentioned by your State will add greatly to its wealth and prosperity. The election of a Republican Governor and one or two members of Congress, would have added millions to the wealth and enterprize of your State. Look at the comparative growth of Arkansas and Kansas, yet the first has great natural advantages. Wealth and enterprize have no confidence in the Bourbon rule.

By the bye, your fellow citizen, Augustian and the supplied of the properties have no confidence in the Bourbon rule.

By the bye, your fellow citizen, Augustus Pollock, Eeq., is a splendid speaker. He puts his English together in a style equal to any one after whom I have read for many a day.

I see by your paper that the Baltimore company has turned its attention to filling the gap between Pittsburgh and Chicago Junction instead of to the completion of the Hempfield. I do not know that we cought to be surprised st this. The making of that road of about 100 miles will give Baltimore the best line, not only for the Chicago and Upper Lake trade, but for both the Northern and Central Pacific. The distance to the Atlantic Coast will be far less and her grade far lighter than any other except the Lake Shore and New York Central, which is much longer. But that will not finish the Hempfield, which would have been finished twenty-five years ago but for the folly and extravagance of Mr. Ellet and its mansgers. You need the road through now, and propose a narrow gauge to Connelaville. Will you permit me to make a suggestion? The Hempfield is now worthless to the Baltimore road. Could you not make a cont.act with the Company, very secure and strong, to carrylooke over that thirty miles of road at 2 cents per fon

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or heart from the Propries Walness or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes per-manent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.
